

$5000 REWARD FOR ARREST OF MISSING RECORDS

GOVERNMENT PAPERS RESEARCH RECORDS MISSING

MISSING RECORDS IN RUN OF GOVERNMENT PAPERS

Continued from First Page

leaving Mr. Garrett behind, and after the main door of headquarters at exactly 6 o'clock.

"I'd like to see the paper," he said, stepping up to a patrolman "Dick" Southworth, Crowley's aide on the information desk.

"How you feeling, Ollie?"

"Fine."

"How's things going?"

"Great."

The superintendent walked past the group to his office without speaking to the former raider, it is doubtful whether he noticed him.

Southworth followed Crowley and told him: "Garrett is here and wants to see you."

"Just a minute, I'll get my hat and coat off," Crowley replied.

"I'll run the buzzer when I'm ready."

The buzzer rang about two minutes later.

Southworth moved to the "insiders" office followed by Garrett.

In much the same fashion as a butler might announce to an assemblage of social personages the arrival of a famous character, Southworth opened the door and said:

"Oliver B. Garrett."

"Show him in, Dick," invited Crowley.

Garrett entered and stood before the superintendent. The two did not shake hands.

"I would like permission from you, Mr. Crowley, to see the records and records of the Hotel Rita," said Garrett.

"All right. You have my permission to see the records and take copies but not the originals," Crowley replied.

"Thank you, Mr. Crowley."

Garrett turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

He turned on the left, walked out and across the corridor and down the stairs to the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Read Conditions of American's $5000 Reward

THE Boston Evening American reserves the right to withdraw this offer at any time when it appears in the publication that the purpose of the reward has been served.

The Boston Evening American shall be the sole judge as to the distribution of this reward, as to persons who shall be eligible as to the division, if deemed merited, and as to whether the conditions given herein regarding its awarding have been met, and by whom.

All persons offering information with the intention of obtaining all or part of the reward shall agree to all of these conditions, as a condition precedent to any claim for all or part of the reward.

If more than one person furnishes the same information at the same time, or if several persons furnish the same information to the Boston Evening American, this newspaper shall divide the $5000 reward, as it deems proper, among such persons as it deems eligible.

In no event shall the reward exceed the sum of $5000, whether this sum be given to one person or divided among several persons.

The Boston Evening American shall be the sole judge as to the distribution of this reward, as to persons who shall be eligible as to the division, if deemed merited, and as to whether the conditions given herein regarding its awarding have been met, and by whom.

Instead of going to the State House, he went to the continuous to wait for his attorney, Herbert J. Sullivan. He met and talked with Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Mr. Sullivan, who he formerly worked with in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

The Boston Evening American will pay a reward of $5,000.00—five thousand dollars—for information given EXCLUSIVELY to this newspaper which results in the arrest and conviction of any person or persons for felonies, aside from liquor law violations, growing out of the so-called Garrett Case.

Address The Garrett Case Reward Editor, Boston Evening American, or Call Liberty 4000

Another Fool Proof Plane

By FRANKLIN COLLIER

WHAT A DIFFERENCE IN A FEW YEARS.

WE STILL WISH THEY WOULD TURN THOSE ORNAMENTAL SPIKES DOWNWARD.

WISE ANOTHER BIRD'S-ARMS ENCOURAGING THEIR YOUNG TO WALK INSTEAD OF FLY.

SENT THEM HOME

has come out of England since the time that Arthur Balfour in 1923 proceeded gently and painlessly to send our American navy his eyes all the while "full and running over" with tears of gratitude for our saving help in the great war?

Are you not, Sir, collaborating daily with the half-caste American correspondents of international-minded metropolitan newspapers whose publishers wear the decorations of foreign governments for loyalty to their own?

Are you not, Sir, co-operating with the representatives of the American pacifist and internationalist and League of Nations lobby present at this London conference, all of them WORKING AGAINST THE NAVAL DELIBERATION OF THEIR OWN COUNTRY?

7.—In brief, Mr. MacDonald, are you the friend you pretend to be, or are you the slyest, smoothest, trickiest diplomat that Lillian V. Hatch, who formerly testified she was Garrett's landlady, was actually placed by him in the Hotel Rita cloakroom to check notes of letters sent by him to be recalled and subjected to a searching examination.

The suave and immaculate Garrett caused yesterday to be a one-man "black list" of the names of the men and women who were the target of an investigation centered at the Hotel Rita.

Will you place on the defense, decline to "dig in" to his reply to it? His secretary, John Merrick, was present at yesterday's proceedings. He says he will not have a lawyer and will take the stand when he is called.

Sup. Crowley has made an absolute refusal to be ever taken a cent of gratuity from him.

His friends today are claiming that the "little gang" have "had it" for the police superintendents. Some of the names have been hurt in this investigation.

They point out that two weeks ago there was a rumor that a "Gentle Mike" was to be made a gangster in the liquor squad's office in the basement.

Many women figure in the case, it appears. The "little gang" were called, if for nothing more than to repeat on the stand what they have already said.

After the hearing, Mrs. Garrett's brother-in-law, must appear before the court. Some of the names have been hurt in this investigation.

After private questioning by the attorney general, it is believed that he had ever said Garrett's name and that the further the case goes, the more names will be revealed.

The figures of many women have been mentioned in the investigation. Some of the names have been hurt in this investigation.

After private questioning by the attorney general, it is believed that he had ever said Garrett's name and that the further the case goes, the more names will be revealed.

CONTACT MAN

DIRECTED "JOINTS" WHERE TO BY LIQUOR UNDER THREAT OF POLICE RAID

Oliver B. Garrett, uncovered

king of the headquarters liquor squad for years although officially only a special officer, had his own "prime minister," it was revealed today.

For in the hey day of his power, when he was arrogantly flaunting the authority of Capt. Patterson, the official head of the squad, Garrett did not neglect the membership of the "boys."

It was also through — former drugstore owner, and — a friend of Police Commissioner Wilson, that Garrett dictated the details of his squad.

For in the hey day of his power, when he was arrogantly flaunting the authority of Capt. Patterson, the official head of the squad, Garrett did not neglect the membership of the "boys."

It was also through — former drugstore owner, and — a friend of Police Commissioner Wilson, that Garrett dictated the details of his squad.

For in the hey day of his power, when he was arrogantly flaunting the authority of Capt. Patterson, the official head of the squad, Garrett did not neglect the membership of the "boys."

It was also through — former drugstore owner, and — a friend of Police Commissioner Wilson, that Garrett dictated the details of his squad.

For in the hey day of his power, when he was arrogantly flaunting the authority of Capt. Patterson, the official head of the squad, Garrett did not neglect the membership of the "boys."

It was also through — former drugstore owner, and — a friend of Police Commissioner Wilson, that Garrett dictated the details of his squad.

For in the hey day of his power, when he was arrogantly flaunting the authority of Capt. Patterson, the official head of the squad, Garrett did not neglect the membership of the "boys."

It was also through — former drugstore owner, and — a friend of Police Commissioner Wilson, that Garrett dictated the details of his squad.

For in the hey day of his power, when he was arrogantly flaunting the authority of Capt. Patterson, the official head of the squad, Garrett did not neglect the membership of the "boys."

It was also through — former drugstore owner, and — a friend of Police Commissioner Wilson, that Garrett dictated the details of his squad.

For in the hey day of his power, when he was arrogantly flaunting the authority of Capt. Patterson, the official head of the squad, Garrett did not neglect the membership of the "boys."

It was also through — former drugstore owner, and — a friend of Police Commissioner Wilson, that Garrett dictated the details of his squad.

For in the hey day of his power, when he was arrogantly flaunting the authority of Capt. Patterson, the official head of the squad, Garrett did not neglect the membership of the "boys."

It was also through — former drugstore owner, and — a friend of Police Commissioner Wilson, that Garrett dictated the details of his squad.

For in the hey day of his power, when he was arrogantly flaunting the authority of Capt. Patterson, the official head of the squad, Garrett did not neglect the membership of the "boys."

It was also through — former drugstore owner, and — a friend of Police Commissioner Wilson, that Garrett dictated the details of his squad.

For in the hey day of his power, when he was arrogantly flaunting the authority of Capt. Patterson, the official head of the squad, Garrett did not neglect the membership of the "boys."

It was also through — former drugstore owner, and — a friend of Police Commissioner Wilson, that Garrett dictated the details of his squad.

For in the hey day of his power, when he was arrogantly flaunting the authority of Capt. Patterson, the official head of the squad, Garrett did not neglect the membership of the "boys."

It was also through — former drugstore owner, and — a friend of Police Commissioner Wilson, that Garrett dictated the details of his squad.

For in the hey day of his power, when he was arrogantly flaunting the authority of Capt. Patterson, the official head of the squad, Garrett did not neglect the membership of the "boys."

American's Story Aids Sidlinger

Inspired by his exposure story

In connection with the Garrett investigation and published exclusively in the Boston Evening American, hundreds of New England residents have offered aid to Albert K. Sidlinger, he revealed today.

Sidlinger, who was doing well before being sentenced to the House of Correction on a charge which, he claims, was "framed," told a Boston Evening American reporter at the State House.

"As a result of my story in the Boston Evening American, I have been flooded with letters, hundreds of them, from people not only around Boston but all over New England, offering to aid me and my four-year-old motherless boy."

These letters all extend to me sympathy and express hope that I will be vindicated.

"I wish to inform these many kind friends, through the American, that my boy is being well cared for by relatives, but I thank the writers for the bottom of my heart."

He has been many offers of financial aid for myself, but I must refuse these also, even though it is through a sense of duty. I cannot accept a cent from anybody, but I wish to thank those that have made the offer."

A lodging house, he found it hard to make both ends meet. After the death of his wife, he was transferred to the East Dedham St. station and had been there only about a month when he was picked up by a man who was a member of a headquarters liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad. At one time it was said he "baggies" the liquor and vice squad.

Raider Sees His Old Chief

Oliver B. Garrett right after he called on Supt. of Police Michael Crowley today in quest of liquor raid records. Garrett is shown just about to enter his automobile, in which he drove with his wife to the State House, when told that Atty.-Gen. Warner had the records he sought. (Staff photo.)

Oliver B. Garrett right after he called on Supt. of Police Michael Crowley today in quest of liquor raid records. Garrett is shown just about to enter his automobile, in which he drove with his wife to the State House, when told that Atty.-Gen. Warner had the records he sought. (Staff photo.)

Oliver B. Garrett right after he called on Supt. of Police Michael Crowley today in quest of liquor raid records. Garrett is shown just about to enter his automobile, in which he drove with his wife to the State House, when told that Atty.-Gen. Warner had the records he sought. (Staff photo.)

Oliver B. Garrett right after he called on Supt. of Police Michael Crowley today in quest of liquor raid records. Garrett is shown just about to enter his automobile, in which he drove with his wife to the State House, when told that Atty.-Gen. Warner had the records he sought. (Staff photo.)

Oliver B. Garrett right after he called on Supt. of Police Michael Crowley today in quest of liquor raid records. Garrett is shown just about to enter his automobile, in which he drove with his wife to the State House, when told that Atty.-Gen. Warner had the records he sought. (Staff photo.)

Oliver B. Garrett right after he called on Supt. of Police Michael Crowley today in quest of liquor raid records. Garrett is shown just about to enter his automobile, in which he drove with his wife to the State House, when told that Atty.-Gen. Warner had the records he sought. (Staff photo.)

Oliver B. Garrett right after he called on Supt. of Police Michael Crowley today in quest of liquor raid records. Garrett is shown just about to enter his automobile, in which he drove with his wife to the State House, when told that Atty.-Gen. Warner had the records he sought. (Staff photo.)

Oliver B. Garrett right after he called on Supt. of Police Michael Crowley today in quest of liquor raid records. Garrett is shown just about to enter his automobile, in which he drove with his wife to the State House, when told that Atty.-Gen. Warner had the records he sought. (Staff photo.)

Oliver B. Garrett right after he called on Supt. of Police Michael Crowley today in quest of liquor raid records. Garrett is shown just about to enter his automobile, in which he drove with his wife to the State House, when told that Atty.-Gen. Warner had the records he sought. (Staff photo.)

Oliver B. Garrett right after he called on Supt. of Police Michael Crowley today in quest of liquor raid records. Garrett is shown just about to enter his automobile, in which he drove with his wife to the State House, when told that Atty.-Gen. Warner had the records he sought. (Staff photo.)

Oliver B. Garrett right after he called on Supt. of Police Michael Crowley today in quest of liquor raid records. Garrett is shown just about to enter his automobile, in which he drove with his wife to the State House, when told that Atty.-Gen. Warner had the records he sought. (Staff photo.)

TEN TELL SECRETS OF HOTEL RITZ AT GARRETT HEARING

Mrs. May Butterfield of Columbus Ave., who testified that Oliver B. Garrett weekly received an envelope from her late husband, who was kept at the Ritz. (Staff photo.)

Mrs. Mabel S. Worcester, hostess at the Franklin Sq. House, painted a picture of liquor and vice conditions which she declared were existing at the Hotel Ritz when she made a visit of inspection on March 2 and 3, 1928. (Staff photo.)

Marion Ward Remington, who testified at the State House hearing of accompanying Mrs. Worcester and others to the Ritz, and of conditions that she observed. (Staff photo.)

Florence H. Luscomb of Allston, executive secretary of the Women's Inter-State Association for Peace and Freedom, said she saw young girls under the influence of liquor at the Ritz and that a police survey of the place was preceded by a conference with the head waiter, while all the guests had an opportunity to learn of the officer's presence. (Staff photo.)

HOOVER'S K. S. SECURITY PACT

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Acting Secretary Cotton of the State Department said today there was no difference of view between President Hoover and the American naval delegation in London.

London, March 29 (AP)—The principles which the American delegation has adapted to guide possible United States participation in a suggested consultative agreement for the benefit of France were said today on the highest authority to have been fully approved by President Hoover.

This statement was in answer to press reports from Washington to English newspapers that the President was unfavorable to the American naval delegation's attitude toward a consultative pact.

The principles of the American delegation concerning a possible consultative pact are understood to have been cabled to President Hoover by Secretary of State Stimson and it is said the President replied, approving.

The cardinal principle is that a consultative agreement, if entered into by the United States, would, among other limitations, expressly confine the American undertakings to peaceful measures and to exclude all coercive action.

The American delegation to the British and French to settle their security pact problem before a decision of a consultative agreement and the United States has to declare its position.

Meanwhile the British and French were said to have run against formidable difficulties in trying to work out a security pact which would be the forerunner of any possible consultative agreement in which the United States might participate.

France was represented as wanting Great Britain to sign a mutual security pact which would provide for material assistance in case of war. Great Britain was represented as unwilling to undertake any more military commitments.

House Leaders Plan to Delay Naval Mission Bill

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Intensions of House administration leaders to withhold action on the more than $200,000,000 annual naval appropriation bill for an additional six weeks, in the hope that the London naval conference will reach agreement on tonnage, if not a reduction in naval armaments, was disclosed today by Representative French, Republican, Idaho.

All Marines Out of Haiti in Six Years

Washington, March 29 (IN)—If all goes well the U. S. Marines will be out of Haiti by 1936 and the Haitians will be handed back control of their affairs under the civil guidance of Americans.

When Brig.-Gen. John H. Russell's "tour of duty" expires he will be succeeded by a military officer to occupy the dual role of diplomatic representative of the United States and tutor to Haitian officials. These are the principal features of the report of the Fones commission returned to the island by President Hoover.

Women Seek to Be Fliers in One Day

Roosevelt Field, N. Y., March 29 (AP)—Three young women, none of whom had any previous flight experience, took off today in an attempt to prove that a person can be taught to fly an airplane in one day.

Their initial flight was with instructors, but J. G. Orr, treasurer of Roosevelt Field, Inc., expected each would make a solo flight before sunset. The women are Miss Dorothy Calbreth, 18; Miss Elizabeth Wagner, 24, and Mrs. Helen Gillespie, 30, all of Long Island.

40 SAFE ABOARD STUDENT SHIP

San Francisco, March 29 (INS)—The yacht Gulmore, with 40 University of California students aboard, missing throughout the night in a heavy fog in San Francisco Bay, docked here today.

Twenty of the students were girls. The yacht, owned by Carl Heening of Berkeley, left early yesterday and the party planned to return at 8 o'clock last night.

The yacht was 12 hours overdue when it docked.

Boats had been entertained that the small pleasure craft might have met the fate of two larger ships encountered in the dense fog.

The big Japanese freighter Maru crashed on the rocky coast off Point Sur, 100 miles south of San Francisco. Her crew was rescued.

The lumber schooner Clarence crashed on the northern shore of the Golden Gate. The captain turned his ship back and beached her on the sandy shore.

Day Resigns from Sinclair Con.

New York, March 29 (AP)—Henry Mason Day, vice-president of the Sinclair Exploration Company, a subsidiary of the Sinclair Consolidated Oil Corporation, has resigned to enter other fields. It was announced today.

Day has been associated with Harry P. Sinclair for about six years, and was convicted with Sinclair on a charge of contempt of court in connection with the alleged "shadowing" of jurors.

Don't You Run Off Again!

St. Louis, March 29 (AP)—Two men held on the Park St. Police Trust Company here today and escaped in an automobile with $15,000.

Bank Robbers Flee in Auto With $15,000

St. Louis, March 29 (AP)—Two men held on the Park St. Police Trust Company here today and escaped in an automobile with $15,000.

May Give Mrs. Taft Free Use of Mails

Washington, March 29 (INS)—Free use of the mails would be granted Mrs. William Howard Taft, widow of the former President, under a bill approved today by the House Postoffice Committee.

The bill follows custom in extending franking privileges to widows of ex-presidents. Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson now enjoy the privilege.

N. E. T. & T. Allowed to Own Vt. Company

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Acquisition by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company of the White River Valley Telephone Company was authorized today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Valley company operates 1809 stations in Vermont.

Giant Gusher Defies Efforts of Oil Men to Shut It In Oklahoma City, March 29 (AP)—Rumbling defiance at scores of oil field workers who sought to halt its flow, Gusher No. 1, Mary Sudick, in the Oklahoma City oil field, today continued to run wild, inundating the countryside and spouting thousands of barrels of "liquid gold" high into the air.

The No. 1 Mary Sudick blew in Wednesday, a mammoth gusher, with an estimated daily flow of 200,000,000 cubic feet, with a trace of oil.

Gradually the oil flow increased, until it reached 2000 barrels of oil an hour, one of the largest wells of its kind in the world. It may take several days to shut it in.

Holdup Men Shoot Official, Miss $900

Newark, N. J., March 29 (AP)—Louis Bremer, 28, assistant treasurer of the Newark Compressed Steel Corporation, was shot and seriously wounded today by one of the men fired. The holdup men fled in an automobile.

Bank Robbers Flee in Auto With $15,000

St. Louis, March 29 (AP)—Two men held on the Park St. Police Trust Company here today and escaped in an automobile with $15,000.

Don't You Run Off Again!

St. Louis, March 29 (AP)—Two men held on the Park St. Police Trust Company here today and escaped in an automobile with $15,000.

May Give Mrs. Taft Free Use of Mails

Washington, March 29 (INS)—Free use of the mails would be granted Mrs. William Howard Taft, widow of the former President, under a bill approved today by the House Postoffice Committee.

The bill follows custom in extending franking privileges to widows of ex-presidents. Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, Mrs. Grover Cleveland and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson now enjoy the privilege.

N. E. T. & T. Allowed to Own Vt. Company

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Acquisition by the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company of the White River Valley Telephone Company was authorized today by the Interstate Commerce Commission. The Valley company operates 1809 stations in Vermont.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?

In Today's News

1. How do you stand on prohibition? 4

2. Who qualified for college swim meet? 12

3. Who visited police headquarters today? 1

4. Where is stock trading on increase? 16

5. Who will participate in radio spelling bee? 18

6. What play will Cohan give week after next? 6

7. How long does Edison hope to live? 11

8. What is progress in Witch case? 5

COLLEGE GIRLS FLY HOME

Nineteen Wellesley students took advantage of the airplane service to New York to arrive at their homes as soon as possible for their annual spring vacation.

The girls, of every class at the college, arrived at the airport in passenger buses and were assigned to their seats in two tri-motored Gosses. A third ship was necessary to take care of the regular weekend demand, due to the chartering of most of the seats in the college.

The girls were piloted by Charles O'Connor and Edward Weatherdon, with copilots Theodore Kenyon and Thomas Carl.

The girls were the Misses Ruth Kemmerer, Ray Bigler, Betty Kelley, L. A. Wilmer, L. E. Voth, Clara Tupper, Ruth Sincere, Ruth Bannister, Mary Boyd, M. L. Stevens, M. C. Langford, Julian Jenks, Lucy Tomkins, M. Straum, N. Hennings, Suzanne Andrews, Williams, Andrews, Mary Ward and Marion Brury.

Five Wellesley Girls Hurt

New York, March 29 (AP)—A letter that she is positive was written by her daughter, Grace Budd, kidnapped nearly two years ago when 10 years old, has been received by today.

Grace disappeared June 3, 1928, with a man about 38, who called himself Frank Howard, and who first appeared at the Budd home a few days earlier, ostensibly with reference to an advertisement that Budd's son, Edward, 18, had inserted in a newspaper seeking summer work as a farmhand.

Cardinal Says Mass at Brady Funeral

New York, March 29 (INS)—Funerals of the slain Cardinal Ignatius Loyola Church today for funeral services for Nicholas P. Brady, prominent Catholic layman and utilities magnate.

Solemn confessional mass was celebrated by Cardinal Hayes. A special mass of requiem was celebrated by Pope Pius at Rome at the same time. Among mourners was former Governor Alfred E. Smith, Nathan L. Miller and John D. Ryan.

Union Labor to Run Theater in Denver

Denver, Colo., March 29 (AP)—A theater to be organized, financed and operated by union labor group will be launched in Denver, April 30. It was announced here today.

Final plans for the new venture, said to be the first of its kind in the history of the American theater, are being completed.

Musicians and stage hands, thrown out of employment here by talking moving picture plays, will operate the theater.

Wales to Fly to Cairo

Cairo, Egypt, March 29 (AP)—It was understood here today that the Welshman, who was in Khartoum, on the Upper Nile, April 1 by plane for Cairo.

It's One Place Where Capone Would Be Welcomed

Chicago, March 29 (AP)—Alphonse Capone, the gangster, has sent his "regrets" to the invitation to the Black Hills of South Dakota, extended by the Rapid City Chamber of Commerce.

And Governor Bulow, who announced soon after the invitation was made public that "we don't want Capone or any of his kind in South Dakota," need have no fear that the Chicago gangster will invade his State.

The Tribune today quoted Capone as saying he appreciated the invitation, but would save the Governor the trouble of trying to keep him out of the State as he had no "desire to live in the Black Hills."

Seek Kidnaped Girl N. H.

New York, March 29 (AP)—A letter that she is positive was written by her daughter, Grace Budd, kidnapped nearly two years ago when 10 years old, has been received by today.

Grace disappeared June 3, 1928, with a man about 38, who called himself Frank Howard, and who first appeared at the Budd home a few days earlier, ostensibly with reference to an advertisement that Budd's son, Edward, 18, had inserted in a newspaper seeking summer work as a farmhand.

Cardinal Says Mass at Brady Funeral

New York, March 29 (INS)—Funerals of the slain Cardinal Ignatius Loyola Church today for funeral services for Nicholas P. Brady, prominent Catholic layman and utilities magnate.

Solemn confessional mass was celebrated by Cardinal Hayes. A special mass of requiem was celebrated by Pope Pius at Rome at the same time. Among mourners was former Governor Alfred E. Smith, Nathan L. Miller and John D. Ryan.

Union Labor to Run Theater in Denver

Denver, Colo., March 29 (AP)—A theater to be organized, financed and operated by union labor group will be launched in Denver, April 30. It was announced here today.

Final plans for the new venture, said to be the first of its kind in the history of the American theater, are being completed.

Musicians and stage hands, thrown out of employment here by talking moving picture plays, will operate the theater.

Wales to Fly to Cairo

Cairo, Egypt, March 29 (AP)—It was understood here today that the Welshman, who was in Khartoum, on the Upper Nile, April 1 by plane for Cairo.

QUIZ MAID ON MOTHER-IN-LAW JUROR CALL OUSTED, BUT—

A maid employed in the home of a Revere physician was interviewed today by Dist. Atty. William J. Foley in connection with the mysterious telephone call to a juror, which caused a mistrial in a case before Judge Morton in Suffolk Superior Court.

Jeremiah Mulcahy of Telegraph St., South Boston, to whom the call was made, told Judge Morton in an unidentified man telephoned him, and suggested that the plaintiff in the case was entitled to damages of $2000.

The maid today told Dist. Atty. Foley she had no knowledge of the call, but it said she had advised the fiancée of a Malden youth, a cousin of the juror, who leaves the same name.

Lane Is Sent to U. S. Embassy in Mexico

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Arthur Bliss Lane of New York, now chief of the division of Mexican affairs of the State Department, today was ordered to go to Mexico City as counselor of the U. S. embassy.

Herschel V. Johnson of Charlotte, N. C., first secretary of the embassy at Mexico City and charge d'affaires in the absence of Ambassador Morrow, has been ordered to Washington to replace T. T. Lane.

Iron-Rule Breaks Revolt of Convicts

Jefferson City, Mo., March 29 (AP)—Missouri's 1000 convicts in the overcrowded state penitentiary here today experienced their second day of rigid rules as a result of mutiny Wednesday and Thursday. Prison officials believed the revolt was broken and the situation under control.

Pope Names Pizzardo

Valencia City, March 29 (AP)—Pope Pius today appointed Monsignor Pizzardo, assistant Secretary of State, as titular archbishop of Cyprus. He will retain his present post.

Ousted Mother-In-Law Evens Score

London, March 29 (AP)—Mrs. Louise Odeell Loria, who was ousted from her position as a juror in a case involving the death of her son, today evens the score by being named as a juror in a case involving the death of her son.

State Rights Talk

Prof. Frederick J. Gillis of the Boston Teachers' College will speak on "The Federal Encroachments on State Rights" at the closing meeting of the Martha Moore Avery season of the Common Cause Forum tomorrow evening in Franklin Union Hall.

EXPECT DAIL TO O. K. COSGRAVE

Dublin, Irish Free State, March 29.—William T. Cosgrave, president of the Irish Free State executive council, who announced resignation of his government following its two-week defeat on a pension bill, is expected to be re-elected when the Dail reconvenes next week. The Dail election is scheduled for Wednesday.

Resignation of a government does not necessarily result in a general election, and as Cosgrave's strength in the Dail was not impaired by his defeat the way is open for his re-election.

The chief opposition party, the Fianna Fail, who have 57 members in the Dail, will name their leader, Eamon De Valera, in the United States.

The appearance of a third candidate in the person of T. J. O'Connell, parliamentary leader of the Irish Free Labor party, has decreased De Valera's chances of being elected.

Big Glass Companies in 65 Million Merger

Toledo, March 29 (INS)—Announcement was made here today of the merger of the Edward Ford Glass Co. and the Libbey-Owens Glass Co., the world's largest sheet glass makers. The merger involves $65,000,000 in securities.

The new name will be Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Co., operating major plants in Detroit and Toledo, and also in Europe.

Pope Names Pizzardo

Valencia City, March 29 (AP)—Pope Pius today appointed Monsignor Pizzardo, assistant Secretary of State, as titular archbishop of Cyprus. He will retain his present post.

Ousted Mother-In-Law Evens Score

London, March 29 (AP)—Mrs. Louise Odeell Loria, who was ousted from her position as a juror in a case involving the death of her son, today evens the score by being named as a juror in a case involving the death of her son.

State Rights Talk

Prof. Frederick J. Gillis of the Boston Teachers' College will speak on "The Federal Encroachments on State Rights" at the closing meeting of the Martha Moore Avery season of the Common Cause Forum tomorrow evening in Franklin Union Hall.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?

In Today's News

1. How do you stand on prohibition? 4

2. Who qualified for college swim meet? 12

3. Who visited police headquarters today? 1

4. Where is stock trading on increase? 16

5. Who will participate in radio spelling bee? 18

6. What play will Cohan give week after next? 6

7. How long does Edison hope to live? 11

8. What is progress in Witch case? 5

QUIZ MAID ON MOTHER-IN-LAW JUROR CALL OUSTED, BUT—

A maid employed in the home of a Revere physician was interviewed today by Dist. Atty. William J. Foley in connection with the mysterious telephone call to a juror, which caused a mistrial in a case before Judge Morton in Suffolk Superior Court.

Jeremiah Mulcahy of Telegraph St., South Boston, to whom the call was made, told Judge Morton in an unidentified man telephoned him, and suggested that the plaintiff in the case was entitled to damages of $2000.

The maid today told Dist. Atty. Foley she had no knowledge of the call, but it said she had advised the fiancée of a Malden youth, a cousin of the juror, who leaves the same name.

Lane Is Sent to U. S. Embassy in Mexico

Washington, March 29 (AP)—Arthur Bliss Lane of New York, now chief of the division of Mexican affairs of the State Department, today was ordered to go to Mexico City as counselor of the U. S. embassy.

Herschel V. Johnson of Charlotte, N. C., first secretary of the embassy at Mexico City and charge d'affaires in the absence of Ambassador Morrow, has been ordered to Washington to replace T. T. Lane.

Iron-Rule Breaks Revolt of Convicts

Jefferson City, Mo., March 29 (AP)—Missouri's 1000 convicts in the overcrowded state penitentiary here today experienced their second day of rigid rules as a result of mutiny Wednesday and Thursday. Prison officials believed the revolt was broken and the situation under control.

Pope Names Pizzardo

Valencia City, March 29 (AP)—Pope Pius today appointed Monsignor Pizzardo, assistant Secretary of State, as titular archbishop of Cyprus. He will retain his present post.

Ousted Mother-In-Law Evens Score

London, March 29 (AP)—Mrs. Louise Odeell Loria, who was ousted from her position as a juror in a case involving the death of her son, today evens the score by being named as a juror in a case involving the death of her son.

State Rights Talk

Prof. Frederick J. Gillis of the Boston Teachers' College will speak on "The Federal Encroachments on State Rights" at the closing meeting of the Martha Moore Avery season of the Common Cause Forum tomorrow evening in Franklin Union Hall.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW?

In Today's News

1. How do you stand on prohibition? 4

2. Who qualified for college swim meet? 12

3. Who visited police headquarters today? 1

4. Where is stock trading on increase? 16

5. Who will participate in radio spelling bee? 18

6. What play will Cohan give week after next? 6

7. How long does Edison hope to live? 11

8. What is progress in Witch case? 5

George Mack Betty Mack

"Big Sister" Collette Mack of Lexington st., East Boston, gave the "runaway babies," George and Betty, a severe scolding after police found them asleep in a baby carriage a mile from home, from which they had been missing for two days. (Staff photo.)

John Loria Robert Loria Mrs. Loria Louise Loria Mrs. Odeell

Mrs. Louise Odeell Loria and her three children, whose home has been disturbed by her mother Judge Gray found in Loria's suit to oust his mother-in-law. (Staff photos.)

Mrs. Anna Odeell must leave the Loria home or the court will order her out.

LET THE WILL OF THE PEOPLE BE SUPREME!

DRY?

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
I favor the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment not because it has been ineffectual but because it transgresses principles that are older, more fundamental, more deeply rooted than even the Constitution: the right of every free man to be left alone in his own private habits. Too much governmental interference is sometimes worse than no government.

Social reforms can only be achieved by a gradual moulding of the public's habits of thought. Premature legislation setting up an ideal which has not been accepted by the public must always end in failure. Social legislation should succeed the acceptance of the idea by the public and should never precede it.

Prohibitionists do not distinguish between things "malum in se" that is, inherently vicious, and things "malum prohibitum" merely prohibited. Murder, robbery and incest are wrong, whether or not there is a statute prohibiting them. Drinking can never be put in that class, because it is not wrong in and of itself, any more than a traffic violation is wrong in itself.

The Eighteenth Amendment is the discordant note in an otherwise harmonious Constitution. Placed there side by side with the fundamental principles of self-government it degrades and debases an otherwise noble document. The Constitution was never meant to be a glorified police code book, nor was it meant to enumerate narrow, prohibitory principles properly belonging in the book of city and town ordinances. This debasement, this degradation is the real violation of the Constitution, and more fundamentally injurious than the combined activities of bootleggers, hijackers and all the other annoying insects that have come with the blight of Prohibition.

T. E. MURPHY,
43 Payton st., Providence, R. I.

WOMAN'S REASONS

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
I am positively against prohibition, although it has made no difference in my home, as we are not interested in any kind of "crisis," with the exception of a little sacramental wine for the Passover holidays, once a year. However, it has caused great misery in my good old U. S. A. Think of all the needless killings by "dry" of innocent people. Of the terrible bootleg wars, gang murders and police murders. Prohibition may have cured a few drunkards out on the whole, but it has increased crime.

Like all forbidden fruits, which are said to taste sweetest, prohibition has caused more attention to be paid to drinking, so that a good many folks are learning to taste the "forbidden fruit." Furthermore, as it has a "real stuff," a "little hard to get," many folks are going something over on the state laws, by drinking secretly. It was with the passing of prohibition, with less wars and less crime, the society temperance saloon, sooner or later, he is "bumped off" by a "bumped off" and orphan.

MRS. ELIZABETH BISHOP,
110 Wauwatt St., Roxbury.

STIFLES DECENCY

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
Give us repeal by all means. It is prohibition that has undeniably brought about the shameful conditions that now exist. I am, therefore, in favor of repeal, because it has spread forth a hot and cold war, a war of meat, poisoning, and death; that is gradually engulfing and breaking the decency in men. It has opened up more ways of making "easy money" than anything ever known.

I have corrupted men in all walks of life and added more misery and desolation to homes by the sale and use of the liquor license ever did. Give us back the decency which, in fact, will help bring back propriety, decency, and the respectability that has been lost and do away with some of that graft which has been a part of your democratic system.

WILLIAM BOYD,
165 Chelsea St., Charlestown.

DO AWAY WITH GRAFT

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
I am in favor of repealing the Eighteenth Amendment so as to get a chance to have a free distribution of liquor. You must not think that I am in favor of the distribution of liquor. I am in favor of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, because it has brought about the conditions that now exist. I am in favor of repeal, because it has spread forth a hot and cold war, a war of meat, poisoning, and death; that is gradually engulfing and breaking the decency in men. It has opened up more ways of making "easy money" than anything ever known.

I have corrupted men in all walks of life and added more misery and desolation to homes by the sale and use of the liquor license ever did. Give us back the decency which, in fact, will help bring back propriety, decency, and the respectability that has been lost and do away with some of that graft which has been a part of your democratic system.

WILLIAM BOYD,
165 Chelsea St., Charlestown.

CITIES STRONG FOR REPEAL

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
I am in favor of the repeal of the Volstead act in its entirety. I believe that this "noble experiment," so termed by our President, has been a failure from the start and that it is the cause of wholesale and organized crime and is breaking down the morale of the country both in our youth and among men of high trust.

I think that if it were left to work out, this problem is a much more progressive manner. I think that a program of education and not prohibition is nearer to the solution of our problem. If the same experiment were tried to educate our youth against over-indulgence as has been given prohibition, I know that the results attained would be something worth while. Most of our youth are not interested in freedom, but can be educated to respect the character of their country.

LAWRENCE J. DORAN,
630 S. Washington St., Boston.

Public Decrees

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
After 10 years of more or less earnest endeavor to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment, all of us who are studying this problem with unbiased judgment will admit that this law just cannot be enforced.

Why? Because about two-thirds of the people do not believe in the statute.

Because those who do not believe in a law which requires no scruples in breaking the law, nor will they deter others from breaking it.

We know that customs make the laws and change the laws. Public opinion has made it now a custom to break the prohibition amendment, even by the so-called pillars of American institutions.

So, since more it is proven that the law of custom is stronger than the law of a nation, and the nation which breaks the law of custom is bucking a wall which is impregnable.

Therefore, the conclusion is evident: if you vote for the repeal of the law, BY ALL MEANS, REPEAL THE LAW, and thus prevent thousands, or rather millions, of good citizens from becoming lawbreakers and consequently actual or potential criminals.

WILLIAM A. COREY,
72 Clarendon St., Boston.

IS STATE PROBLEM

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
I am in favor of the repeal of the Volstead act in its entirety. I believe that this "noble experiment," so termed by our President, has been a failure from the start and that it is the cause of wholesale and organized crime and is breaking down the morale of the country both in our youth and among men of high trust.

I think that if it were left to work out, this problem is a much more progressive manner. I think that a program of education and not prohibition is nearer to the solution of our problem. If the same experiment were tried to educate our youth against over-indulgence as has been given prohibition, I know that the results attained would be something worth while. Most of our youth are not interested in freedom, but can be educated to respect the character of their country.

LAWRENCE J. DORAN,
630 S. Washington St., Boston.

NEW YORK

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
I am in favor of the repeal of the Volstead act in its entirety. I believe that this "noble experiment," so termed by our President, has been a failure from the start and that it is the cause of wholesale and organized crime and is breaking down the morale of the country both in our youth and among men of high trust.

I think that if it were left to work out, this problem is a much more progressive manner. I think that a program of education and not prohibition is nearer to the solution of our problem. If the same experiment were tried to educate our youth against over-indulgence as has been given prohibition, I know that the results attained would be something worth while. Most of our youth are not interested in freedom, but can be educated to respect the character of their country.

LAWRENCE J. DORAN,
630 S. Washington St., Boston.

For Repeal

IT TAKES AN INHERENT RIGHT

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
I favor the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment not because it has been ineffectual but because it transgresses principles that are older, more fundamental, more deeply rooted than even the Constitution: the right of every free man to be left alone in his own private habits. Too much governmental interference is sometimes worse than no government.

Social reforms can only be achieved by a gradual moulding of the public's habits of thought. Premature legislation setting up an ideal which has not been accepted by the public must always end in failure. Social legislation should succeed the acceptance of the idea by the public and should never precede it.

Prohibitionists do not distinguish between things "malum in se" that is, inherently vicious, and things "malum prohibitum" merely prohibited. Murder, robbery and incest are wrong, whether or not there is a statute prohibiting them. Drinking can never be put in that class, because it is not wrong in and of itself, any more than a traffic violation is wrong in itself.

The Eighteenth Amendment is the discordant note in an otherwise harmonious Constitution. Placed there side by side with the fundamental principles of self-government it degrades and debases an otherwise noble document. The Constitution was never meant to be a glorified police code book, nor was it meant to enumerate narrow, prohibitory principles properly belonging in the book of city and town ordinances. This debasement, this degradation is the real violation of the Constitution, and more fundamentally injurious than the combined activities of bootleggers, hijackers and all the other annoying insects that have come with the blight of Prohibition.

T. E. MURPHY,
43 Payton st., Providence, R. I.

First Winners of Prizes Monday

Announcement of the first list of winners in the American's $500 weekly awards, together with the winning letters, will be made in next Monday's American. The printed book and any day in the American may be prize winners, but the fact that they are printed does not necessarily mean they will be awarded prizes.

IT VIOLATES CONSTITUTION

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
I favor the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment not because it has been ineffectual but because it transgresses principles that are older, more fundamental, more deeply rooted than even the Constitution: the right of every free man to be left alone in his own private habits. Too much governmental interference is sometimes worse than no government.

Social reforms can only be achieved by a gradual moulding of the public's habits of thought. Premature legislation setting up an ideal which has not been accepted by the public must always end in failure. Social legislation should succeed the acceptance of the idea by the public and should never precede it.

Prohibitionists do not distinguish between things "malum in se" that is, inherently vicious, and things "malum prohibitum" merely prohibited. Murder, robbery and incest are wrong, whether or not there is a statute prohibiting them. Drinking can never be put in that class, because it is not wrong in and of itself, any more than a traffic violation is wrong in itself.

The Eighteenth Amendment is the discordant note in an otherwise harmonious Constitution. Placed there side by side with the fundamental principles of self-government it degrades and debases an otherwise noble document. The Constitution was never meant to be a glorified police code book, nor was it meant to enumerate narrow, prohibitory principles properly belonging in the book of city and town ordinances. This debasement, this degradation is the real violation of the Constitution, and more fundamentally injurious than the combined activities of bootleggers, hijackers and all the other annoying insects that have come with the blight of Prohibition.

T. E. MURPHY,
43 Payton st., Providence, R. I.

PUBLIC DECREES

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
After 10 years of more or less earnest endeavor to enforce the Eighteenth Amendment, all of us who are studying this problem with unbiased judgment will admit that this law just cannot be enforced.

Why? Because about two-thirds of the people do not believe in the statute.

Because those who do not believe in a law which requires no scruples in breaking the law, nor will they deter others from breaking it.

We know that customs make the laws and change the laws. Public opinion has made it now a custom to break the prohibition amendment, even by the so-called pillars of American institutions.

So, since more it is proven that the law of custom is stronger than the law of a nation, and the nation which breaks the law of custom is bucking a wall which is impregnable.

Therefore, the conclusion is evident: if you vote for the repeal of the law, BY ALL MEANS, REPEAL THE LAW, and thus prevent thousands, or rather millions, of good citizens from becoming lawbreakers and consequently actual or potential criminals.

WILLIAM A. COREY,
72 Clarendon St., Boston.

Boston Evening American Prohibition Straw Vote

Mark (X) Under Form You Favor

For 18th Amendment	For Modification	For Repeal
☐	☐	☐

Name _____
Address _____

Names of Voters Will Not Be Published. If you have a definite opinion, mark this ballot and send it to Editor of Prohibition Opinion, P. O. Box 185, Boston, Mass.

WOMAN'S REASONS

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
I am positively against prohibition, although it has made no difference in my home, as we are not interested in any kind of "crisis," with the exception of a little sacramental wine for the Passover holidays, once a year. However, it has caused great misery in my good old U. S. A. Think of all the needless killings by "dry" of innocent people. Of the terrible bootleg wars, gang murders and police murders. Prohibition may have cured a few drunkards out on the whole, but it has increased crime.

Like all forbidden fruits, which are said to taste sweetest, prohibition has caused more attention to be paid to drinking, so that a good many folks are learning to taste the "forbidden fruit." Furthermore, as it has a "real stuff," a "little hard to get," many folks are going something over on the state laws, by drinking secretly. It was with the passing of prohibition, with less wars and less crime, the society temperance saloon, sooner or later, he is "bumped off" by a "bumped off" and orphan.

MRS. ELIZABETH BISHOP,
110 Wauwatt St., Roxbury.

STIFLES DECENCY

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
Give us repeal by all means. It is prohibition that has undeniably brought about the shameful conditions that now exist. I am, therefore, in favor of repeal, because it has spread forth a hot and cold war, a war of meat, poisoning, and death; that is gradually engulfing and breaking the decency in men. It has opened up more ways of making "easy money" than anything ever known.

I have corrupted men in all walks of life and added more misery and desolation to homes by the sale and use of the liquor license ever did. Give us back the decency which, in fact, will help bring back propriety, decency, and the respectability that has been lost and do away with some of that graft which has been a part of your democratic system.

WILLIAM BOYD,
165 Chelsea St., Charlestown.

DO AWAY WITH GRAFT

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
I am in favor of repealing the Eighteenth Amendment so as to get a chance to have a free distribution of liquor. You must not think that I am in favor of the distribution of liquor. I am in favor of the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment, because it has brought about the conditions that now exist. I am in favor of repeal, because it has spread forth a hot and cold war, a war of meat, poisoning, and death; that is gradually engulfing and breaking the decency in men. It has opened up more ways of making "easy money" than anything ever known.

I have corrupted men in all walks of life and added more misery and desolation to homes by the sale and use of the liquor license ever did. Give us back the decency which, in fact, will help bring back propriety, decency, and the respectability that has been lost and do away with some of that graft which has been a part of your democratic system.

WILLIAM BOYD,
165 Chelsea St., Charlestown.

Cabinet to Entertain B. U. Frosh Group

Boston University's junior and senior members of the B. U. Frosh Group, which is the B. U. Frosh Group, will be entertained by the freshmen committee at breakfast tomorrow in the Boston "X" rooms.

This entertainment, while in honor of the freshmen, will be open to all students. Afterward, those present will attend the Old North Church.

Byrd Is Honored by Humane Society

New York, March 29 (AP)—Rear Admiral Byrd is an honorary member of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. His plane, which he brought back from the Antarctic instead of destroying them, some people have been accused of "killing" the birds.

Why I Am For Repeal

By JOHN F. FITZGERALD
Former Mayor of Boston

ALL sensible men who know what is going on in this country, realize the precarious liquor situation in America today. It is significant that every country which has tried prohibition, has changed.

A prominent Englishman visiting in our country said recently liquor situation was served to him at every function that he attended except one. And it is like that throughout the length and breadth of the land. We must take into consideration a situation of this sort.

The greatest danger of prohibition is the corruption of public officials.

Where the manufacture of alcohol is so cheap and the sale of it so high, there can be no stoppage. I look for a riotous situation in America within the next 10 years. It is inevitable unless something is done to stop this corruption so easily brought about in the past by the prohibition law.

Conditions, since the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment went into effect, are just as rotten, and in addition the liquor itself is rotten.

By liquor in the above paragraphs I refer to all intoxicants, whether ale, wine, whiskey, or what not.

Now my road for peace and happiness is half way between the conditions as existed and described above, and would call for the nullification of the Volstead Act, so as to afford us the use of light wines and beers, of alcoholic content sufficient to at least be stimulating and refreshing. These light wines and beers should be dispensed openly and above board in bright, open, wholesome atmospheres, under strict police supervision. Call these places beer gardens or what you will, they will be a great improvement over the old saloons and the present-day speakeasies, etc., which, with their poor liquor and high prices, are robbing, blinding and killing hundreds of good people daily.

J. F. SWEENEY,
27 Pleasant st., Woonsocket, R. I.

For Modification

SUGGESTS 'HALF WAY PLAN'

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
Why I favor Modification of the Eighteenth Amendment: Conditions under the old times previous to the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment were certainly rotten, but such rottenness was not caused by the liquor itself, but by the rotten gang that dispensed it under the rotten system that allowed them to do so.

Conditions, since the adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment went into effect, are just as rotten, and in addition the liquor itself is rotten.

By liquor in the above paragraphs I refer to all intoxicants, whether ale, wine, whiskey, or what not.

Now my road for peace and happiness is half way between the conditions as existed and described above, and would call for the nullification of the Volstead Act, so as to afford us the use of light wines and beers, of alcoholic content sufficient to at least be stimulating and refreshing. These light wines and beers should be dispensed openly and above board in bright, open, wholesome atmospheres, under strict police supervision. Call these places beer gardens or what you will, they will be a great improvement over the old saloons and the present-day speakeasies, etc., which, with their poor liquor and high prices, are robbing, blinding and killing hundreds of good people daily.

J. F. SWEENEY,
27 Pleasant st., Woonsocket, R. I.

Your Chance to Vote—See Coupon

The Boston Evening American offers every resident of New England the opportunity of registering his or her vote on the prohibition question. This is being done through the coupon printed each day on this page.

MAKE YOUR VOICE BE HEARD. THIS COUPON OFFERS YOU THE OPPORTUNITY.

CALLS PROHIBITION A CRIME

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
I wish to voice my opinion on the subject of the modification of prohibition. That our country could ever allow such a law as the Eighteenth Amendment to be thrust upon the people, a law that is so flagrantly broken, held in such scorn by the people, I cannot understand. I do not wish to see open saloons again, but I most certainly would advocate government and state control of liquor.

Prohibition! What crime has not been committed in thy name? Murder, banditry and corruption. Policemen, prohibition agents and citizens slaughtered.

We have lost millions in revenue. We have appropriated millions in the enforcement of it. If all these millions had been put into schools, factories, hospitals and construction we would never have the terrible business depression that we are experiencing today.

If some miracle could only give us back some of those noble minded men, the greatest body of men in the history of our country, the men who wrote the laws of our Constitution, men who would vote no or yes, and mean it, men who vote no and drink yes, as we have in our Congress today.

PAUL ZOLLO,
6 Hamilton st., Danvers.

Parker Opposed by Labor Chiefs

Washington, March 29—President Green of the American Federation of Labor announced last night that his organization would oppose the confirmation of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

After examination of Judge Parker's record, Green said he was "glad that his place of origin is above and beyond reproach."

Seek Washington Home $150,000 Fund

Feeling that their work can no longer be carried on in the noisy and congested district that has grown up around it, the directors of the Washington Home, which was established in 1883 for the care and reformation of inmates, have started a drive to raise $150,000 for a new building to be erected in a rural and quiet atmosphere.

The first appeal for funds the home has made since its inception and it has raised for more than $100,000.

KEEP PROSPERITY

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
Prohibition brought prosperity of every kind to the laboring man. They make beer and wine at home and consume it there in moderate quantities. Modification means nothing to them and men with money want hard liquor. They are willing to pay for it and have it at any cost. No modification would still leave us with our present and our future. Government control has been unsuccessful wherever tried and would really be modified barroom, where a man could dispose of his money.

Boys and girls of high school age have always drunk liquor. They went to work younger boys from the back rooms of the saloons drinking with men of all ages. And children as young as 10 years, running out the back door of saloons with their beer which they took a drink from every few steps.

Most of the racketeers and bootleggers, however, report them and let the rich go to jail for buying hard liquor. But don't repeat and don't put the poor man back in the gutter. Prohibition has benefited the majority and we should continue on.

122 So. Main st., B. FOLLETT

FOR EDUCATION

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
I am in favor of modification, because I believe that through such a method will the people of our country learn temperance. Prohibition does not represent temperance any more than the law does. Furthermore, prohibition is a process of evolution.

Modification, plus a general education against the evil results of drink will, in my opinion, lead to a common ground upon which all citizens can agree. Temperance may unite. By the combined efforts on the part of all to stamp out liquor—rather than the present open fight between the wet and dry camps, which will finally become liquor-less.

S. M. BROOKLINE

HURTING YOUTH

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
I favor modification of the present law because:

1—For I imagine all the men that were put out of work when the prohibition law was passed were forced to close.

2—Prohibition is only hurting the country instead of making it prosper. The men who don't get their jobs honestly and openly will still get it some other way. It won't do us any good to do that.

3—Two or 21 years ago you never heard of as many murders, robberies, kidnappings, and you wouldn't hear of them now. It is the same with the Eighteenth Amendment.

4—There were never so many young boys and girls drinking as there are today.

5—When my mother was a girl, there was no such thing as a saloon. Boys and girls were moderate as you are.

ARTHUR HOYT,
West Roxbury.

Read These Simple Rules

LETTERS must be confined to 200 words; the shorter the letter, Don't worry about the length. Letters must be written, but write on one side of the paper. Letters will be judged by what's in them. All letters must be in this office not later than Wednesday of each week. Letters arriving later will be judged in the next week's awards. Letters will be published weekly, but publication does not necessarily imply that they are prize winners.

State whether or not you wish your name or initials to be used in publication.

If your letter wins a prize, you are expected to permit use of your name.

Board of judges will comprise at least two prominent exponents of "for" and "against" opinions, together with the editor of this department.

Open to anyone in New England except employees of the Hearst newspapers and their families.

The Boston Evening American reserves the right to amend or modify these rules from time to time as occasion may require.

Decision of judges shall be final.

Address
EDITOR OF PROHIBITION OPINION
5 WINTHROP ST., Boston, Mass.
P. O. BOX 185

For Prohibition

CITES DUTY OF THE NATION

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
It is one of the duties of government to prohibit any activity which may injure its citizens. For instance, if even a relatively few citizens are killed by careless automobile drivers, it becomes the duty of the government to enforce laws that will effectively reduce the number. Similarly, if a number of citizens are afflicted with dangerously contagious diseases, it becomes the duty of the government to protect the others from contagion.

By adopting the Eighteenth Amendment our government has wisely recognized the fact that alcoholic indulgence and even mild intoxication menaces the moral fiber, the mental growth, and the physical well-being of its citizens.

Any argument against this Amendment based on the difficulties of enforcement or on the curtailment of liberty is fundamentally unsound. All prohibitory laws have encountered these obstacles; yet we still have prohibition of murder, highway robbery, dueling, slavery, wife-beating, traffic in narcotics, drunken driving, and hundreds of other practices.

Most of these prohibitory laws are still difficult of complete enforcement, and are decidedly curtailments of absolute liberty; yet few intelligent persons would urge that any of them should be repealed.

SARAH B. STAFFORD,
3 Orchard st., Cambridge.

SAYS CONDITIONS IMPROVED

Editor of Prohibition Opinion:
In considering the prohibition law, the people should appreciate the general conditions of today as an impressive, positive and demonstrative improvement over the impracticable and foolhardy period of the saloon era. The prohibition law is not a mere law; by its efficiency it affects the economical, mental, moral, physical and industrial capacities of the American people. The value of the law lies more in individual obedience thereto rather than general enforcement. But no law is so compatible that it requires no enforcement. The results of enforcement today do not necessarily mean a failure or success of the prohibition law. The majority of the people do not drink; the future drinkers, and lowers the ranks of the drinkers of the saloon days. To modify the present law would be aggravating the symptoms rather than eradicating the cause; to repeal the law means the return of the saloon. The dispensing of liquor is not the solution; the solution lies in the prevention of unlawful drinking.

The evils of drink and drink can only be lessened or eliminated by laws which require effective and quick enforcement.

MAURICE COHEN,
47 Hazleton st., Mattapan.

The $500 Weekly Prize List

For the best letters printed each week in the American, the following prizes will be awarded:

For the Amendment
$100.00 For Best Letter!
$25.00 Second Prize!
$15.00 Third Prize!
$10.00 Fourth Prize!

For Modification
$100.00 For Best Letter!
$25.00 Second Prize!
$15.00 Third Prize!
$10.00 Fourth Prize!

For Repeal
$100.00 For Best Letter!
$25.00 Second Prize!
$15.00 Third Prize!
$10.00 Fourth Prize!

Ten Special Prizes
Ten special prizes each worth of $5 each for other letters also considered worthy of special notice.

NEW ENGLAND STEAMSHIP LINES

LARGE comfortable steam steamers on these popular routes to New York. Light spending a night in a fine hotel. Good food at moderate prices. Large luxurious staterooms. Steam-heated lounges.

FALL RIVER LINE
$5.00

PROVIDENCE LINE
$4.50

Train leaves South Station daily at 5:05 P.M. via Providence 6:07 P.M. Free motor coach transfer to wheel. Steamer leaves 7:30 P.M. Due Pier 14, N. R. New York at 7 A. M.

AUTOMOBILES CARRIED

NEW ENGLAND STEAMSHIP LINES

AWARDED gold medal by food commission for excellence of food.

SPECIAL BROWN OFFER

LOVE LILAC MAY NOT TESTIFY FOR HER LIFE

Buffalo, March 29 (INS)—Lila Jimerson, "the Red Lilac of the Cayugas," on trial for the hammer murder of Mrs. Clothilde Marchand, probably will not take the stand in her own defense.

It was indicated today her attorneys have about concluded her ends would best be served by keeping her out of the witness box.

The dark-eyed Lila is such a strange and unmanageable personality her lawyers are not sure what she would say if she took the stand. They have conferred with her time and again in the Erie County jail, but she has not convinced them she would be a good witness.

Lila entertains a feeling of disappointment, bordering on anguish, toward her former sweetheart, Henri Marchand, the distinguished sculptor, who played with her love and who is the husband of the woman slain by the old Indian woman, Nancy Bowen, allegedly at the instigation of Lila.

It is no secret among Lila's close Indian friends that she still loves Marchand, the vagabond woodsman, who casually admitted on the stand his "affair" with Lila and his romances with many other women.

There was no court today, the trial having been adjourned yesterday, when the State rested until Monday.

The defense has maintained secrecy as to the procedure they will adopt in the effort to break the admittedly strong case. Dist. Atty. Moore has built up.

Harvard Student to Wed Simmons Senior

Cupid has chalked up another victory, but his victims, college students in this instance will not permit romance to interfere with their studies.

They are Don S. Green, 22, student at the Harvard School of Engineering, and Charlotte Wedgewood Mason, 21, senior at Simmons College, who will be married in the Second Church of Newton on April 22, and continue their respective studies until June.

The couple filed marriage intentions at Cambridge City Hall, Green, a native of Texas, is residing at present on Highland ave., Cambridge. Miss Mason lives on Barnstable rd., West Newton.

The ceremony, it was announced, will be performed by the Rev. Boynton Merrill. The couple will make their home in Cambridge.

Calm Depositors as Northampton Bank Is Closed

Northampton policemen had to be called to clear the corridor of the Hampshire County Trust Co. when depositors swarmed to the bank after it had been closed by State Bank Commissioner Roy A. Hovey.

The depositors were informed later by Ralph W. Hemenway, president of the bank, that they would suffer no loss. Ex-President Coolidge and Mrs. Coolidge are among the depositors of the bank.

Harold R. (Dick) Newcomb, former manager of the bank's savings department, who is under arrest. The shortage is now placed at $285,000. (Photo by Eric Stahlberg.)

SAYS BANK MAN HAS CONFESSED $285,000 THEFT

Northampton, March 29—Harold R. (Dick) Newcomb, deposed bank manager by night and bank manager by day, has confessed embezzlement of $285,000 from the Hampshire County Trust Company, according to a statement issued today by Dist. Atty. Charles Fairhurst.

According to the district attorney, Newcomb made a clean breast of the whole affair, admitting that he had taken the money over a five-year period and "frisked it away" living the life of a millionaire.

The district attorney said Newcomb confessed he had used a clever system of double accounts to hide his defalcations.

Had it not been for illness, which kept him away from the bank during an unexpected visit of bank examiners about 10 days ago, the shortage would not have been discovered, Newcomb told the district attorney.

The Hampshire County Trust Company, where Newcomb was employed as manager of the savings department, closed its doors yesterday after a two-day run on the bank.

Its collapse tied up city payrolls yesterday the municipality was forced to negotiate an emergency loan to pay the school department payroll.

Ex-President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge are listed among the depositors of the closed bank.

Dist. Atty. Fairhurst said Newcomb said he now is "dead broke." While Newcomb is in the county jail holding $30,000 bail, his young and pretty bride of two years is in a sanitarium in their precinct, Prospect at home.

Foil Plot to Blow Up Gary (Ind.) City Hall

Gary, Ind., March 29 (INS)—Four sticks of dynamite were found today in one of the entrances to City Hall in what police believe was a plot to blow up the building. Unattached fuse caps were found.

It is supposed the plot was the outgrowth of Mayor R. O. Johnson's drive against rum, vice and gambling.

The victims were Charles O'Gorman, 19, son of a Lawrence police officer, and Raymond Ward, 18, survived by an 18-year-old wife and an eight-month-old son. The doctors said they had learned one purchased an apple at a fruit stand and shared it with the other.

Dieting Victim

Allyn King, ex-Follies girl, who, following a breakdown due, relatives say, to dieting, tried suicide by leaping from a fifth-floor window, breaking both legs and arms, in New York.

New York, March 29 (AP)—Suffering a nervous breakdown that followed efforts to reduce her weight, Allyn King, 29, who was four years in the Ziegfeld Follies, attempted suicide today by jumping from a window of her hotel room on the fifth floor of an apartment house.

Both legs and both arms were broken and it is believed her skull was fractured.

According to an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William King, she underwent a course of dieting that caused a breakdown and a stay in a sanitarium at South Norwalk, Ct.

SPRING SPURS TRAFFIC AT AIRPORT

By GEORGE HAMBLIN
Air transportation at the Boston Airport is starting its spring climb as the number of passengers flows out to various destinations in a day may be taken as a criterion.

A total of 84 persons, male and female, climbed into nine different planes and were whisked to three different points of the compass yesterday. This figure is the highest of the present season, but evidence points to increasing use of the airplane, not only on the scheduled Colonial run to New York, but also on the single-engine, phone-operated by Curtiss-Wright and Skyways.

Colonial Air Transport, of course, led the list, flying six planes out of Boston to New York, and carrying 57 passengers. Skyways made a trip to the Holmes Airport, Jackson Heights, N. Y., to pick up three passengers for Boston.

Curtiss-Wright made a trip to Montreal, and to Nantucket.

The 8 o'clock plane to New York carried a full list of 32 persons, while the noon trip had a Fairchild, single-engine, plane with four passengers, in addition to the tri-motored Ford, loaded with 12.

On the afternoon flight two trimotors and a Fairchild were necessary to carry the 29 passengers who clamored for seats.

Three members of the Montreal Maroon hockey team chartered a plane from Curtiss-Wright to return to Montreal. Capt. Duncan Monroe, "Red" Dutton and Dr. Frank Reilly were piloted by Ralph Wickford in a Fairchild. J. Paul Hornum took two persons down to Nantucket in a Challenger-engineered Robin, with a two-day layover there. Hornum will return tomorrow with the passengers. This is one of the longest periods a ship has been kept on a five-mile flight, except for bad weather.

"The entire outlook is very encouraging," said Edmund Dignan.

AMEE WANTS TO BOMB KREMLIN

Hoboken, N. J., March 29—"Star" Almes Temple McPherson, blonde California evangelist, today discussed the possibility of bombing the Russian Kremlin with religious tracts from an aeroplane, before sailing on the liner George Washington for a pilgrimage to the Holy Land.

The Soviet anti-religious movement is shocking," she said. I have been thinking over what can be done to counteract it for some time.

Derelict Submarine Runs Ashore on Cornish Coast

London, March 29 (AP)—"Found, one submarine, stranded, but apparently in good condition and refloatable; will owner please claim."

This in effect was a message from Cornwall today regarding a boat that drifted ashore at St. Just.

It was identified as the "L-1," one of the "G2" class that did extensive work in the World War. Struck from the active navy list, she was put up for sale and apparently was being towed to a shipbreaker's.

GOT $22,000 IN BANK HOLDUP

Watertown, Ct., March 29 (AP)—The hold up at Watertown Trust Co. by three young men yesterday netted them $22,225.00, this amount being paid to the bank today by insurers as reimbursement for the loss. The officials yesterday had placed the figure at about $18,000. Police today regarded the escape of the men as complete. No clue to them after departure from Watertown where they abandoned an auto, has developed.

Believe Germ From Apple Killed Two Lawrence Boys

Lawrence, March 29—Physicians investigating the deaths of two youths from spinal meningitis today said they believed they had traced the germs to an apple the victims shared while at work last Monday.

The victims were Charles O'Gorman, 19, son of a Lawrence police officer, and Raymond Ward, 18, survived by an 18-year-old wife and an eight-month-old son. The doctors said they had learned one purchased an apple at a fruit stand and shared it with the other.

AT THE BARN
125 SEVENTH ST.
BERRY
DO NOT GIVE BERRY
BERRY AND BERRY
BERRY
BERRY

PORTLAND MANCHESTER

$2.00 $1.25

EXPRESS—DAILY—SUNDAY

8:15 A. M. 1:30 P. M. 8:15 P. M.

ROUND TRIPS

REDUCED RATES

EAGLE MOTOR TOURS, Inc.

119 Stuart St., Next Plymouth Theatre Liberty 8305

... in a speaker it's

POISE!

... in a cigarette it's

TASTE!

CHESTERFIELD'S taste speaks for itself—no amount of talk can tell you as much as one puff of its flavor.

Taste Chesterfield—and you will recognize a distinct and pleasing flavor, a spicy fragrance, and a rich, wholesome "character" that is Chesterfield's own.

Good taste! What else counts half as much with critical smokers? How else could Chesterfield win and hold its immense popularity...

"TASTE above everything"

Chesterfield

SUCH POPULARITY MUST BE DESERVED

MILD, yes... and yet THEY SATISFY

OLYMPIA UPTOWN

GEORGE BATTLE ARROW SIX TONIGHT

FOR SPORTS—CALL LIBERTY 4000

EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

SATURDAY, MARCH 29, 1930

FOR SPORTS—CALL LIBERTY 4000

Two Records Fall in Harvard Swimming Meet

COACH AND STAR BOSTON COLLEGE BATTERY

TIGERS PLAY ARROW SIX AT GARDEN

TIGERS Locke, Osborne, Taylor, Burke, O. Andrews, Jackson, Boyd, Manning, J. Leonard, Kiehl Mackey, Costantini, J. Foster, Ostrander, J. M. Nichols, Collette, Rheunee, E. J. Roberts

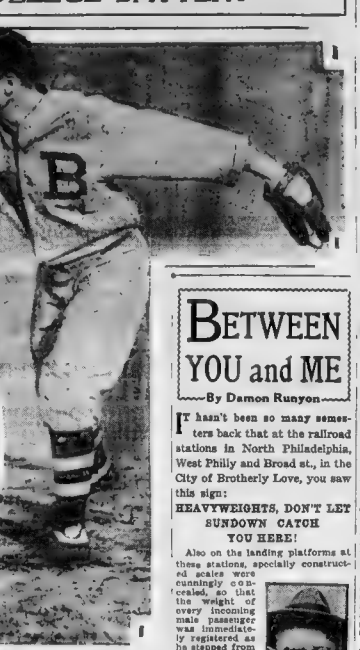

By BILL GRIMES

REALIZING their goal led is not a safe margin in a total goal series, the Boston Tigers will open up on the Philadelphia Arrows in the second and final game of their home series tonight at the Boston Garden.

The Tigers and Arrows battled through the first and last of the season in this city. The only fact that was made the game was a tie in the quarter. C. I. Taylor, who was the third period star, broke a w. y. with a shot and converted a clever move into the fact that the combination play in a record play, neither side suffered any serious injuries and will have their full strength available for tonight.

Coach Hugh Duffy, former Red Sox pitcher, is shown above with Charlie Murphy, star hurler, and George Colbert, who will probably be the regular catcher.

above with Charlie Murphy, star hurler, and George Colbert, who will probably be the regular catcher.

MEET PROGRAM

Time 7:30 P. M.—Swimming relay.
8:00 P. M.—50-yard free style.
8:15 P. M.—100-yard free style.
8:30 P. M.—100-yard backstroke.
8:45 P. M.—100-yard breast stroke.
9:00 P. M.—Penny diving.
9:15 P. M.—100-yard relay.
9:30 P. M.—25-yard free style.
9:45 P. M.—100-yard relay.
10:00 P. M.—100-yard relay.
10:15 P. M.—100-yard relay.
10:30 P. M.—100-yard relay.
10:45 P. M.—100-yard relay.

WITH TWO NATIONAL COLLEGE SWIMMING RECORDS ALREADY BROKEN, 51 SWIMMERS FROM 15 COLLEGES ANTICIPATE THEIR FINAL BATTLE TONIGHT IN THE NATIONAL INTERCOLLEGIATE SWIMMING CHAMPIONSHIPS AT HARVARD

Unquestionably more than two college swimming marks will go to the Harvard swimmers tonight. The 51 swimmers from 15 colleges awaiting their final battle tonight in the national intercollegiate swimming championships at Harvard.

Unquestionably more than two college swimming marks will go to the Harvard swimmers tonight. The 51 swimmers from 15 colleges awaiting their final battle tonight in the national intercollegiate swimming championships at Harvard.

Here's Record in Operations

A FIGHTER with the heart and stoicism of the professional hockey players would be worth a million dollars on the hoof these days. For a ball player, we may seem to be talking over your head about the courage thing, but we get such splendid examples, watching the pack chasers, that it just rolls off the typewriter, willy, nilly.

The skater came out at the attached together as quickly as one that an eye witness could believe it. In the final moment, for instance, Captain Hickey was hauled down for a foul and led away to the dressing room, just 10 minutes after the second period, as started.

His brow was opened for three inches, right in to the front corner. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him.

There's the new of Galois too. This young man was humiliated severely in first Boston game. He came around Thursday morning, hardly able to walk. He had an abdominal injury that was diagnosed as a liver, official and manager, and plenty of hockey players were there.

He was knocked out. He was carried off, and the doctor said to see him. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him.

Brains Nothing in This Bird

OLIVIA CLIFTON (ella about) Laurie Aurie, of the Detroit Cougars, was a star player, official and manager, and plenty of hockey players were there.

He was knocked out. He was carried off, and the doctor said to see him. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him.

Joe Trained by Telephone

JOHN BUCKLEY is the father of the new Boston team. Joe Doe of Lawrence, one of the town's best boxers, was trained by telephone.

He was knocked out. He was carried off, and the doctor said to see him. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him.

Tigers Always Came Through in a Pinch

The I. I. have always been good under pressure. They are a team that has been through a lot of tough games, and they have always come through in a pinch.

He was knocked out. He was carried off, and the doctor said to see him. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him.

Mackey and Foster Will Start on Defense

Mac Mackey and Yip I. I. will start on defense. They are a team that has been through a lot of tough games, and they have always come through in a pinch.

He was knocked out. He was carried off, and the doctor said to see him. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him.

Introducing New Red Sox Players

OTIS MILLER, who hopes to lead out the regular for the Boston Red Sox, is a new player. He is a team that has been through a lot of tough games, and they have always come through in a pinch.

He was knocked out. He was carried off, and the doctor said to see him. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him.

Big Ed Winning Fight for Life

Meriden, Ct., March 29 (INS)—Big Ed Walsh, former pitcher, is a team that has been through a lot of tough games, and they have always come through in a pinch.

He was knocked out. He was carried off, and the doctor said to see him. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him.

Star Mat Show on Thursday

Another outstanding set of wrestling matches will be offered tonight at the Boston Garden. The matches will be a team that has been through a lot of tough games, and they have always come through in a pinch.

He was knocked out. He was carried off, and the doctor said to see him. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him.

Hub Poloists Play in New York Tonight

New York, March 29 (AP)—Two of the seven national indoor polo championships will be decided at the Hub Poloists in New York tonight.

He was knocked out. He was carried off, and the doctor said to see him. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him.

Eagles Lack Defensive Strength

Harvard College's baseball season opens three weeks from today against Fordham at University Heights. The Eagles, who are a team that has been through a lot of tough games, and they have always come through in a pinch.

He was knocked out. He was carried off, and the doctor said to see him. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him.

Hub Poloists Play in New York Tonight

New York, March 29 (AP)—Two of the seven national indoor polo championships will be decided at the Hub Poloists in New York tonight.

He was knocked out. He was carried off, and the doctor said to see him. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him.

Hub Poloists Play in New York Tonight

New York, March 29 (AP)—Two of the seven national indoor polo championships will be decided at the Hub Poloists in New York tonight.

He was knocked out. He was carried off, and the doctor said to see him. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him.

Hub Poloists Play in New York Tonight

New York, March 29 (AP)—Two of the seven national indoor polo championships will be decided at the Hub Poloists in New York tonight.

He was knocked out. He was carried off, and the doctor said to see him. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him.

Hub Poloists Play in New York Tonight

New York, March 29 (AP)—Two of the seven national indoor polo championships will be decided at the Hub Poloists in New York tonight.

He was knocked out. He was carried off, and the doctor said to see him. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him.

Hub Poloists Play in New York Tonight

New York, March 29 (AP)—Two of the seven national indoor polo championships will be decided at the Hub Poloists in New York tonight.

He was knocked out. He was carried off, and the doctor said to see him. He was stretched out on a table, and the doctor went to work. The wound was washed with antiseptic, and the doctor said to see him.

Friedman Defeats Monte in Furious Bout at Garden

ROSLINE HEAVYWEIGHTS DECISION

By JACK CONWAY

AL FRIEDMAN was obliged to put up the greatest battle of his career in order to defeat Joe Monte in a furious 10-round bout at the Boston Garden.

Monte suffered a severe wound over his left eye in the second round. The blow was the result of a counter punch by Friedman.

Friedman, a 164-pounder, landed a right hand to the corner in the opening round.

He then landed a right hand to the head of Monte.

Monte, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Friedman, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Monte, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Friedman, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Monte, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Friedman, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Monte, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Friedman, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Monte, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Friedman, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Monte, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Friedman, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Monte, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Friedman, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

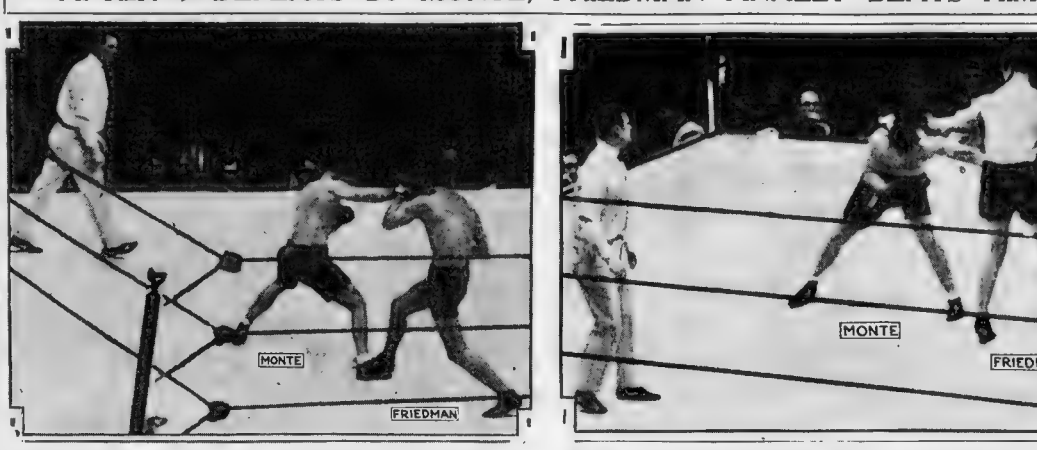

Monte, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Friedman, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Monte, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

EVENING AMERICAN SPORTS

AFTER 9 DEFEATS BY MONTE, FRIEDMAN FINALLY BEATS HIM

In their careers as amateurs and professionals, Al Friedman and Joe Monte met in the ring 9 times before last night. Monte was the victor every time. Last night at the Garden, Friedman won the decision after 10 rounds of furious fighting.

Monte might have made it 10 straight had not Friedman opened a cut over his eye in the first round which bothered Monte considerably.

The above photos were taken at the height of action in the thrill-packed bout. At the left, Monte is shown throwing a right which Friedman is brushing off with his ear. At the right, Friedman is shown slugging at Monte's head while the Bruckton battler is trying to get a left to the body. The bout was the climax to a show that stood out as the best seen here in many weeks.

Monte suffered a severe wound over his left eye in the second round. The blow was the result of a counter punch by Friedman.

Friedman, a 164-pounder, landed a right hand to the corner in the opening round.

He then landed a right hand to the head of Monte.

Monte, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Friedman, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Monte, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Friedman, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Monte, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Friedman, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Monte, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Friedman, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Monte, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Friedman, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Monte, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Friedman, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Monte, who had been badly hurt by the blow, was unable to continue.

Tribe Baggage Master Has Hard Job

By BILL CONNELL

Miami, Fla., March 29.—Few of the fans realize the amount of planning required to send a baseball team to a foreign country.

The training camp for the Boston Braves is in Miami, Fla.

The team is expected to leave for Europe in the near future.

The baggage master has a hard job to see that everything is in order.

The team is expected to leave for Europe in the near future.

The baggage master has a hard job to see that everything is in order.

The team is expected to leave for Europe in the near future.

The baggage master has a hard job to see that everything is in order.

The team is expected to leave for Europe in the near future.

The baggage master has a hard job to see that everything is in order.

The team is expected to leave for Europe in the near future.

The baggage master has a hard job to see that everything is in order.

The team is expected to leave for Europe in the near future.

The baggage master has a hard job to see that everything is in order.

The team is expected to leave for Europe in the near future.

E. C. MAYHOLD CRUISE

By GEORGE W. GRIMM

A large number of important yachtmen have been given place on the 1936 yachting schedule.

The cruise is expected to start in the near future.

The yachtmen are expected to leave for Europe in the near future.

The cruise is expected to start in the near future.

The yachtmen are expected to leave for Europe in the near future.

The cruise is expected to start in the near future.

The yachtmen are expected to leave for Europe in the near future.

The cruise is expected to start in the near future.

The yachtmen are expected to leave for Europe in the near future.

The cruise is expected to start in the near future.

The yachtmen are expected to leave for Europe in the near future.

The cruise is expected to start in the near future.

The yachtmen are expected to leave for Europe in the near future.

The cruise is expected to start in the near future.

The yachtmen are expected to leave for Europe in the near future.

Soccer Abroad

London, March 29 (AP)—Results of league football matches played in the British Isles today were:

The English League First Division.

The Scottish League First Division.

The Irish League First Division.

The Welsh League First Division.

The English League Second Division.

The Scottish League Second Division.

The Irish League Second Division.

The Welsh League Second Division.

The English League Third Division.

The Scottish League Third Division.

The Irish League Third Division.

The Welsh League Third Division.

The English League Fourth Division.

The Scottish League Fourth Division.

Flowers Set for Buck

Flowers, known Phantom of the ring, one of the most successful contenders for the lightweight crown in the ring today, promises to crush the title hopes of Herman Whalen, the school boy who has won the title of the 10-round bout of the Argonne A. double win at Mechanics building last Monday night.

Flowers, after many satisfactory battles in the past, returns here to the ring today to meet Whalen.

The members of the Argonne A. double win at Mechanics building last Monday night.

Flowers, after many satisfactory battles in the past, returns here to the ring today to meet Whalen.

The members of the Argonne A. double win at Mechanics building last Monday night.

Flowers, after many satisfactory battles in the past, returns here to the ring today to meet Whalen.

The members of the Argonne A. double win at Mechanics building last Monday night.

Flowers, after many satisfactory battles in the past, returns here to the ring today to meet Whalen.

The members of the Argonne A. double win at Mechanics building last Monday night.

Flowers, after many satisfactory battles in the past, returns here to the ring today to meet Whalen.

The members of the Argonne A. double win at Mechanics building last Monday night.

Flowers, after many satisfactory battles in the past, returns here to the ring today to meet Whalen.

The members of the Argonne A. double win at Mechanics building last Monday night.

Flowers, after many satisfactory battles in the past, returns here to the ring today to meet Whalen.

The members of the Argonne A. double win at Mechanics building last Monday night.

Sox Vets Face Colonels Today

By JOE CANIMAN

Pennacola, Fla., March 29.—The Sox veterans will face the Colonels today in a game at the National League stadium.

The Sox veterans will face the Colonels today in a game at the National League stadium.

The Sox veterans will face the Colonels today in a game at the National League stadium.

The Sox veterans will face the Colonels today in a game at the National League stadium.

The Sox veterans will face the Colonels today in a game at the National League stadium.

The Sox veterans will face the Colonels today in a game at the National League stadium.

The Sox veterans will face the Colonels today in a game at the National League stadium.

The Sox veterans will face the Colonels today in a game at the National League stadium.

The Sox veterans will face the Colonels today in a game at the National League stadium.

The Sox veterans will face the Colonels today in a game at the National League stadium.

The Sox veterans will face the Colonels today in a game at the National League stadium.

The Sox veterans will face the Colonels today in a game at the National League stadium.

The Sox veterans will face the Colonels today in a game at the National League stadium.

The Sox veterans will face the Colonels today in a game at the National League stadium.

The Sox veterans will face the Colonels today in a game at the National League stadium.

THE THIMBLE THEATER

By Segar

KRAZY KAT

By Herriman

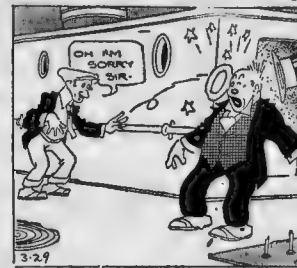

Kabibble Kabaret—By Hershfield

DEAR MR. KABIBBLE, DO WOMEN USUALLY CRY WHEN THEY TRY TO GAIN THEIR HUSBANDS ATTENTION? THEN HE USUALLY GIVES HER A REASON FOR THE TEARS.

BRINGING UP FATHER

Jiggs Isn't in the Forgiving Mood

By George McManus

POLLY AND HER PALS

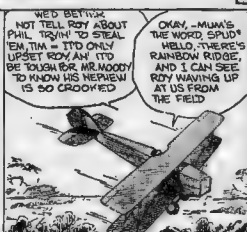

Four Horseshoes, but No Luck

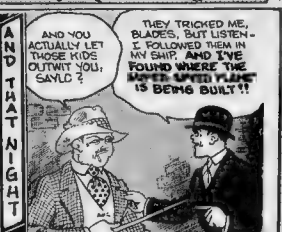

By Cliff Sterrett

TIM TYLER'S FLYING LUCK

Phil Spots the Location

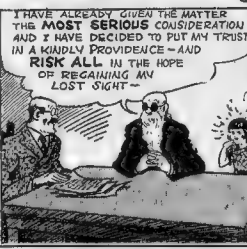

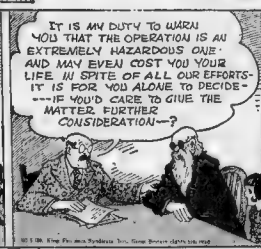

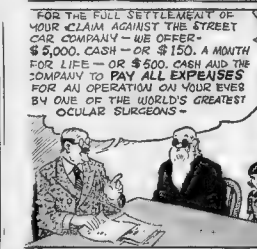

By Lym Young

LITTLE ANNIE ROONEY

The Windows of the Soul

By Ben Batsford

BARNEY GOOGLE

A Shrinkage in the Apple Crop

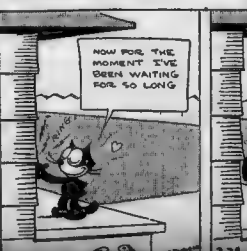

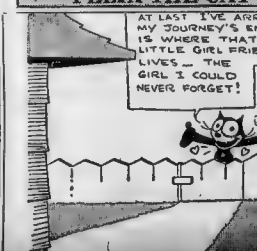

By De Beck

FELIX THE CAT

Whata Difference a Few Months Make

By Pat Sullivan

